

Addition to Canyon School Plant

Completed last month, the new Canyon Elementary School will be used for the first through the fifth grades this fall. When plans were made for the building, it was designed for the first six grades; but an increase in elementary school enrollment forced the school administration to move the sixth grade to the junior high school. The first five grades will use all but one room of the new school, according to present planning.

School Enrolling Begins Aug. 30 Following All-Faculty Meeting

Registration for the 1955-56 term of the Canyon Public Schools begins Aug. 29 at 10 a. m. in the high school. First to register will be seniors.

The registration will follow a general faculty meeting at 8 a. m. in the high school cafeteria. All teachers are expected to attend the first conference.

Following registration for seniors, pupils who will be juniors begin enrolling at 1:30 p. m. at the high school.

Sophomores will register beginning at 9 a. m. Aug. 30, with freshmen following at 1:30 p. m.

Grades one through five will register in the new Canyon Elementary School beginning at 9 a. m. Aug. 30. The enrolling process will continue until noon and resume at 1 p. m.

Grades six through eight will enroll in the old Canyon Elementary School during the same hours. Classes for all grades begin Aug. 31, as will other services of the school system.

School buses will begin regular runs Aug. 31. Parents will be responsible for transportation of their children to school during the registration period.

Lunch will be served in the school cafeterias at noon beginning Aug. 31.

Transcripts and reports of children who did not attend school here last year should be forwarded to school officials now.

Those children enrolling in grades two through eight should have report and book cards from the last school they attended in their possession when they arrive for enrolling Aug. 30.

Pupils registering for high school work will be required to have book cards for the school they last attended if not in Canyon. Transcripts of previous work should be sent for the last school they attended directly to the school here.

Student classification will not be considered complete until all information needed for former schools has been approved by local school officials, according to Supt. Joe Gibson.

Supt. Gibson said, "We are looking forward to an enjoyable school term and shall be happy for all parents to visit the schools on the first day and urge them to continue visiting throughout the year."

Any question about registration may be asked at the school's central office at 5-2509.

Census Estimate Totals 1,156 Here

Enrollment in the Canyon school system is expected to be higher than last year, Supt. Joe Gibson said this week.

While 60 seniors graduated last spring, 106 new first graders are expected for the opening of school this year.

The average daily attendance last year was 1,015, the superintendent said. His estimate for this year, made from census rolls, is 1,156.

The largest single class in the entire system is the third grade, with an estimated 130 members. Supt. Gibson said it is the largest single enrollment ever made here.

The estimated sizes of each class are first grade, 106; second, 110; third, 130; fourth, 85; and fifth, 100, for a total of 531 in the elementary school.

In junior high the enrollment estimates are sixth grade, 108; seventh, 80; and eighth, 100, for a total of 288.

In high school will be 85 freshmen, 87 sophomores, 95 juniors and 70 seniors for a total of 337.

Cemetery Sale To Be Coffee Conversation

The topic of conversation for next Tuesday's chamber of commerce coffee session will be the proposed sale of Dreamland Cemetery.

School Dads Set 1955-56 Budget

A budget calling for expenditures of $442,865 was approved by the Canyon School Board in a Tuesday night meeting.

The budget is some $2,300 higher than the one for last fiscal year, excluding the money budgeted for the new building.

Included in the budget is an allocation of $7,500 for tuition to be paid the Amarillo School District for students who live in the Canyon District but go to school in Amarillo.

Beginning with the 1956-57 school year, the Canyon District will no longer pay the tuition for transferring students, but will provide transportation to Canyon, instead. Those students who wish to attend Amarillo schools may transfer, but will have to pay their own tuition.

The largest single item in the budget is instructional expense, including teachers salaries, set at $260,020. A total of $5,000 has been set aside for possible purchase of school sites.

The district will end the fiscal year this month with a surplus of about $63,000, Lee Foster, tax collector, told the board. The board voted to put $43,000 of the surplus in the sinking fund to take care of bonds coming due (Cont. on Back Page Section 1)

Grid Workouts Begin Monday

Football practice will start Monday at 8 a. m., Coach Guy Harrison announced this week.

Two workouts a day will be held until classes begin Aug. 31, the coach said, with morning workouts at 8 a. m. and afternoon at 4 p. m.

The coach expects 10 lettermen to return to the squad along with four reserve lettermen. There will be eight seniors on the squad, he said.

Workouts for freshmen and seventh and eighth graders will begin when school starts. Both the "A" and "B" squads will work out together until the beginning of school, and assistant coach John Ussery will help with the backs until freshmen workouts begin.

Other coaches helping Harrison, who is beginning his third year in Canyon, are Don Briggs, line coach, and Lynn Hulsey, end coach. Ussery will continue to help with the backfield during the season, in addition to coaching the younger squads.

Coach Harrison invited any interested youth to report to the dressing room Monday morning for the beginning of practice.

Swimming Show Slated Tuesday

All the students in the swimming classes at the new city pool will be presented in a watershow next Tuesday night.

Featured in the show will be the classes for older girls in a water ballet and a diving exhibition by Don Beck. Beck will perform dives seldom seen in this area.

Don Briggs, operator of the pool, said the show is being staged so Canyon citizens can see the work of the summer. The pageant is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m.

Every child who has taken swimming lessons will have a part in the show, he said.

Billy Fain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayndon Fain of Bellaire, Texas, visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gill and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Henderson, last weekend.

County Sets Tax Rate Same As Previous Year

Cemetery Group Meets Friday Night

The Randall County Cemetery Association will hold an open meeting Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the city hall. Mrs. Lonnie Byars, association president, announced.

The meeting is open to any citizen. Plans regarding the operation of Dreamland cemetery will be discussed.

Equalization Board To Begin Hearings on Valuations Sept. 2

The Randall County Commissioners Tuesday afternoon approved a pencil copy of the 1956 budget for the county which retained the same tax rate used this year. They also fixed the assessment rate at 20 per cent of valuation for advalorem taxes. They set Sept. 20 as the date to begin sitting as a board of equalization for the new valuations prepared by County Tax Assessor-Collector Bill Money.

The budget, which must include funds to begin retirement of the bond voted for right-of-way this year, is prepared by a reallocation of funds. E. T. Cummings, county auditor who prepared the budget, said the increase in valuations would take care of retirement of the bonds without raising taxes at all.

The tax rate will be the same as this year's—92 cents regular and 30 cents special, a total of $1.22 per hundred dollars assessed valuation.

Of the 92 cents, 62 cents will be used to run the county while the remaining 30 cents will be put in a sinking fund to retire the bonds. The 30-cent special tax, authorized by voters in 1951, will go to the county road and bridge fund.

The sinking fund was made up by decreasing the amounts to go to other budgeted funds. The jury fund, 15 cents this year, will be dropped to 5 cents; the courthouse and jail fund, 22 cents this year, will drop to 20 cents; while the road and bridge fund will be changed from 30 cents to 12 cents.

In effect, the budget cuts the rate of county expenditures in order to retire the right-of-way bonds.

In preparing the budget, Cummings estimated the county would require $435,531.25 for operations next year. That is a raise from the $383,547 for 1955, but includes money for the bonds.

Advalorem taxes in the county will bring in an estimated $170,603.24, while the 30-cent special tax will net about $35,000. The special tax applies only to land over homesteads, utilities and personal property.

Resources other than taxes will net $264,928.01, Cummings estimates. The two largest sources of outside income are car registrations and office fees.

Estimated expenditures for 1956 and 1955 by funds are:

Fund	1955	1956
Jury	$ 7,674	$ 6,601
Road and Bridge	178,530	178,870
General and Courthouse
and Jail	89,493	69,189
Cemetery	3,900	3,900
Salary	98,900	108,790
Sinking	5,050	68,181
TOTALS	$383,547	$435,531

Girls PE, Health Center Personnel Appointed for New College Year

An instructor in women's physical education and a director of the student health service have been appointed for the 1955-56 session at West Texas State College by President James P. Cornette.

DONNA RAE MARBURGER

MRS. HELEN F. TEAGUE

Donna Rae Marburger, graduate of the University of Wyoming, will be instructor in physical education, and Mrs. Helen F. Teague, public school nurse in Littlefield, will be in charge of the WT health center.

Born in Glenrock, Wyo., Miss Marburger was graduated from the Glenrock High School, and in 1954 was graduated with honors from the University of Wyoming.

In college, she was a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Women's P.E. Majors Club, Red Pencil, and Women's Athletic Association.

Miss Marburger was named to Mortar Board, honor society for women, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, and the departmental honor book in physical education.

In her sophomore and junior years, she received the Panhellenic Award as highest ranking student, and she was awarded a Parents-Teacher Association scholarship.

Mrs. Teague, formerly of Bovina, is a graduate of the Lubbock Memorial Hospital School of Nursing. From 1947 to 1949 she was employed at the Neblett Hospital and Clinic in Canyon, serving one year as supervisor of nurses.

She became public school nurse in Littlefield in 1949. She is married and has two daughters, 9 and 2. Her husband, Dalton Teague, a WT graduate, is a teacher and farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Hale of Plainview visited with Mrs. Marvel Kirbie Saturday enroute to Amarillo to pick up their uncle, Ed Seay, and return him to his home in Colorado after having had surgery in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seay returned home Friday night after a two weeks vacation in California.

Umbarger School To Open Sept. 5

School in the Umbarger Common School District will begin Sept. 5, according to ex-officio County Supt. Roy Joe Stevens.

Enrollment in all 12 grades of the school is expected to be 100 pupils. On hand to teach will be four Catholic sisters, one more than in previous years.

Those who have taught in previous years are Sister Mary D. Lundy, principal; Sister Madeline Eiber, high school; and Sister Brigid Price, elementary.

Judge Stevens said the board of trustees of the district are contemplating calling a bond election in September for a new high school building.

The building which has been used as a high school has been moved to a new location, and will continue to be used for the same purpose, Judge Stevens said.

Teri Kay and Steve Heare of Miami returned to their home Saturday after spending 10 days in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McReynolds.

Schools Ready for Opening Date

High school students will have a hard time recognizing Canyon High when they start back to school this year.

The entire summer has been used in remodeling, painting and moving things around. Sidney Burgess, Lawrence Brotherton and all the janitor force have done most of the work, according to Supt. Joe Gibson.

The changes begin with the enlargement of the high school principal's office. The classroom just north of the old office was split into two parts, with the largest portion being used for the office.

The other part of the room will be the new bookroom. The principal's secretary will use the old office.

Supt. Gibson said the new bookroom will not be used until books for this year's classes are issued from the old storeroom on the third floor. Those books which are left over will be moved downstairs.

Restrooms in the entire building have been modernized. All floors have been repainted, and all furniture has been inspected and that which needed repairing has been taken care of.

A teacher's workroom has been installed in the room next to the superintendent's office. Duplicating equipment and lounge chairs have been installed. Formerly, teachers had to work in a corner of the auditorium.

An art room, for the use of both junior and senior high schools, has been installed in the old homemaking sewing room on the bottom floor of the building. The room will have plastic-topped work tables, a tool storeroom, cabinets and a sink.

Other rooms formerly used by the homemaking department, have been converted to classrooms. The homemaking department is located in the portion of the building completed last January.

The old girl's dressing room for physical education classes is being changed to a blackout room for showing movies.

Two new dressing rooms have been built on the back of the junior high school to accommodate physical education classes. The rooms join the restrooms.

A homemaking department has been set up in the junior high school for seventh and eighth graders.

The music department, situated next to the cafeteria has the room which has been used for public school music classes. In addition another has been set aside for private music lessons and a third for chorus and choir work. Both the high school and the junior high school will use the music rooms.

Other class rooms in the junior high school have been enlarged by removing partitions. The junior high school has been arranged so sixth graders will be located in the lower wing on the south side. On the north side will be the music and homemaking departments.

Upstairs, the seventh and eighth grades will be located.

Supt. Gibson said the rooms have been arranged so that those which will be used by all students will be on the sides of the junior and senior high schools which are closest. The arrangement was made to cut down on unnecessary traffic in the halls.

"The buildings are going to be in good shape," Supt. Gibson said. "The furniture has been gone over in the main and will be nice."

He said each bus had been repaired and put in good running order during the summer, and will be ready for the first scheduled run Aug. 31.

In addition to work inside the buildings, the football field was redone this summer. The turf was taken out, the soil fertilized and "rebuilt," and then was resodded.

Views and Comments

The other day a group of Canyon businessmen were talking over a cup of coffee in the drugstore. As usual, the conversation ranged up and down from baseball to fishing and pertinent comments on the pretty girl who walked by. Then, it switched to a discussion of how to make Canyon grow in the right ways. Soon, out came pencil and paper and here's what they turned over to Roland Black:

"How can we get more families to move to Canyon? Amarillo must have industry to survive. Let's get the cream of the families moving to the area. We must sell people on our town. Some of our advantages are:

- "1. Good water and a sewage plant large enough for 12,000.
- "2. Best educational plant in the Panhandle.
- "3. Thirteen religious denominations.
- "4. Hospitals with eight doctors.
- "5. City park and outdoor swimming pool.
- "6. Most paving of any city of similar size.
- "7. Recreational center of the Panhandle with Palo Duro Park and Buffalo Lake.
- "8. Located on two major highways, soon to become an expressway to the north and four divided lanes to the south and west.
- "9. Cool nights.
- "10. Clean city.
- "11. Low fire insurance rates.
- "12. Low taxes.
- "13. The best class of people.
- "14. Low crime rate.
- "15. High dairy income.
- "16. Best topsoil.
- "17. Cattle and farming community.
- "18. County seat.
- "19. No segregation problems.
- "20. Good trade area potential, with good access from city, suburbs and farm."

Now, that's an impressive list of reasons for moving to Canyon. Left off were other advantages—things like to high-class entertainment afforded by nationally-known artists who visit the college.

And, things like college-level sports events—especially during basketball season. They mentioned the good water, but they didn't say how good it is nor how good the supply is.

They didn't say anything about the amount of money brought into the community by college students. Missing was any mention of the satisfaction of living and raising children in a small city—an intangible thing.

But the men did agree, while talking, that the best way for Canyon to grow—the right way—is for it to become a living place for people who work in Amarillo.

People spend money where they live—if they can get what they want at home. And that makes for growth in the other logical direction—retail business and service.

Now, everyone knows it's the business of the Chamber of Commerce to promote the city and help it to grow. But, the chamber can't do it alone. It becomes the business of every citizen to get busy and advertise Canyon.

Either we all have to work, or we can just forget about the whole thing and let Canyon lie in the brackish backwash of the progressing Panhandle.

While on the subject of chamber of commerce work, the United States chamber reports that more and more large corporations are establishing new funds to help colleges and universities.

The Council for Financial Aid to Education, Inc., believes that higher education's share of the philanthropic dollar has been boosted from 20 per cent in 1950 to 25 per cent today. Small liberal arts colleges are sharing generously in the gifts, as well as technical institutions.

The chamber's studies show more gifts have gone to colleges where educational standards are highest.

How does that affect Canyon?

Farmers in the county have two major crops—wheat and feed grains.

Recently, farmers have had only one—feed grains—because rains haven't been right.

The one crop that has been grown the past few years is being used for only one thing—feeding livestock.

Possibly, industrial corporations might be induced to provide a grant to West Texas State College for study and research on other uses for feed grains.

Such a grant wouldn't necessarily have to be a large one. Maybe only large enough to provide one chemistry or agriculture major with funds to conduct a study of the problem for a master's degree thesis.

Canyon's schools will open in a week-and-a-half, and hundreds of youngsters will be making a daily round-trip to the new elementary school.

Those boys and girls are the ones who have the lowest regard for passing cars. They're too busy having fun and living their own thoughts to pay heed to an oncoming danger.

So it is the duty of the driver to watch out for them. When riding on streets that the children are using, it might be a good idea to drive slowly and keep a sharp eye out for youngsters who might dart out from any direction at any time.

An atomic scientist, Dr. Edward Teller, told the Air Force Association last week that control of weather might come in the next 10 years. He warned that it will take wise men to use the new power as the same weather won't satisfy everyone.

But, he hit on the key to the biggest problem when he said with weather control "our last safe topic of conversation will be gone."

What can we talk about when there's the right amount of rain at the right time, and it's never too hot or too cold?

Although definite procedures haven't been worked out yet, the board of directors of the chamber of commerce has decided to do what they can to promote West Texas State football games this year, as well as the games of Canyon high.

President Truett Hull believes that many of the airmen stationed at Amarillo Air Force Base would be glad to come to the games if they know of them and if they are given a reduced rate. At present, chamber and college officials are working on a plan to sell tickets to airmen at the student rate.

More definite plans will be made at a meeting next week. "We'll do everything we can to promote the games and get more people out except sell tickets," Hull said.

I GIVE YOU
TEXAS
By BOYCE HOUSE

It is Saturday, July 23, 1955, and you are sitting in Municipal Stadium in Kansas City, in a box exactly behind home plate and you are about to see the world's most famous baseball team go into action. Who else but the New York Yankees? (And, of course, their opponents, the Kansas City Athletics.)

The game starts and you see Irv Noren and Bill Hunter, both of whom used to play for Fort Worth, and Gil McDonald, who came up from Beaumont, and also you are seeing for the first time others whose names and deeds you know: Mickey Mantle, Bob Turley, the fireball pitcher, and Yogi Berra, the catcher, a man of medium height, thick-set, dark-complexioned with competence and assurance in every move.

And you see Casey Stengel, the fabulous manager, as he hands the lineup to the umpire. (Casey looks a lot like the late Jakey Atz, skipper of the Fort Worth Cats when they were winning four pennants in the 1920's.)

The sky is blue, the sunshine golden and the great reaches of the stands are filled by nearly 30,000 whose terrific roars of excitement, approval or derision provide a background, like an ancient Greek chorus, for the drama on the field.

You would like to see the home team win—but you don't expect that to happen even though, the night before the A's did win over the Yanks behind the masterful pitching of Vic Raschi and the timely hitting of Enos (Country) Slaughter, 3 to 1—but, after all, Raschi was once the star of the Yankee staff and, for that matter, Slaughter used to play for New York, too.

And this afternoon, the Yankees come along as you anticipated. Bill Hunter's triple with two on and another rally give the visitors a 5-0 lead. Meanwhile Turley has allowed just two singles and only 22 men have faced him in seven innings.

Then in the eighth, the impossible happens! The A's break loose and drive Turley from the mound. The huge reliever, Konstanty, does little better and the home club scores seven runs.

But the Yankees aren't through, not by any means. Cerv, a pinch-hitter, smashes the ball over the 421-foot fence in centerfield and he is followed by Howard, another pinch-hitter, who knocks the ball nearly as far. Two home runs in succession by pinch-hitters and the score stands 7-7.

And so it remains until the eleventh when Simpson of the Athletics singles, moves to second on an infield out and beats the throw to the plate after Lopez singles—and Kansas City has defeated the New York Yankees!

Certainly, a game "for the books"—or at least for the "column."

The Agriculture Department reported that farmers' income dropped 4 per cent in the first half of 1955.

Paper industry sets records for first half of 1955.

Dear Editor,
My family and I are new residents of Canyon, but we feel free to express our appreciation for the many nice things which have happened to us during the two months we have been here.

We are especially grateful for the new city park and playground. In fact, we think that Canyon is a good place to live.

Sheriff Reports On Boys Ranch

Sheriff L. S. Johnston told the Lions Club last week how favorably impressed he was with the boys of Boys Ranch while on the trip to California in July.

"I'd known some of those boys before they went out there, and I wanted to see how they did," the sheriff said. "Those kids had a wonderful time and I believe it was the best trip I ever took."

He said he was impressed with the reverence the boys showed during prayer and singing sessions on the train. They showed perfect table manners while eating at the Miramar Hotel in Santa Monica, he said.

Sheriff Johnston said the boys took care of each other, especially when they began to get seasick on the boat to Catalina.

The boys minded when told to do things, he said. The sheriff told how the director of the movies being made of Roy Rogers set a time limit on how long the boys could watch because he was afraid they would make too much noise.

"After they watched an hour or so, the director changed his mind and said they could stay as long as they wanted. We spent quite a while there," Sheriff Johnston said.

The boys were always punctual. "We had three adults late at Disneyland, but the boys were all there when it was time to go," the sheriff said.

Visitors at the club were Bascom Hayes, Austin; Kenny Lane and Jack Edmonson, Pampa; T. H. Thompson, Summitt, N. J.; Warren Lowry, Amarillo; and Clyde Keith, Denver City.

Macaroni Teams With Mushrooms for a Tasty Picnic Treat

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

A HEARTY salad that travels well always makes a picnic more pleasant. This macaroni-mushroom salad is almost a balanced meal in itself. Serve it with grilled frankfurters, warm buttered frankfurter rolls and chilled fruit drinks and you have a gala meal to relish under the distant trees, or in your own back yard on a warm summer night.

Macaroni-Mushroom Salad (4 to 6 servings)

Four ounces elbow macaroni, 3-ounce can sliced, broiled mushrooms, 1/4 cup well-seasoned French dressing, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 cups celery, sliced diagonally, 1 cup unpeeled, sliced, cucumber wedges; 1 cup sliced radishes.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Drain mushrooms, saving broth for some future use in gravy or sauce. Place mushrooms in suitable container with macaroni. Add French dressing and mix thoroughly.

Cover and chill for several hours, turning ingredients occasionally. Drain off any excess French dressing. Combine and add mayonnaise, lemon juice, mustard and salt.

Just before serving, add crisp vegetables and toss salad lightly together.

Grilled Frankfurters

Eight frankfurters (about one pound), 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, 8 frankfurter rolls, heated.

Score frankfurters lightly in a spiral from end to end. Brush all over with kitchen bouquet. Place on grill about 3 inches from moderate heat. Let broil from 5 to 8 minutes. Turn and broil on second side about 3 to 5 minutes longer. Serve immediately in heated roll.

Macaroni-mushroom salad is a well seasoned traveler; makes a delicious, hearty dish to take on late summer picnics.

Bible Verse to Study

"Now this is eternal life: That they may know thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ."

1. Who recorded the above words?
2. By whom were they spoken?
3. Upon what occasion?
4. Where may they be found?

BIBLE VERSE ANSWERS:

1. By John the Apostle.
2. Jesus himself.
3. In his prayer, just before his arrest in the Garden of Gethsemane.
4. John 17:3.

to selling some of the pigs as feeders if prices are favorable; avoid marketing unfinished hogs ... discounts are heavy; if grain is needed, buy at harvest time and store to capacity of storage facilities; sell old sows and replace with good gilts and improve the quality of the breeding herd.

The one bright spot at the present time, said Bates, is the prospect for good corn and grain sorghum crops in the state. This heavy supply of grain may maintain the present corn-hog ratio ... now around 13. Most likely, he said, grain prices will rise somewhat above support levels following harvest.

THE FLYING DUTCHMAN

"The Flying Dutchman" is a name given by sailors to a phantom ship said to cruise in storms off the Cape of Good Hope. According to legend a Dutch sea captain, bound homeward from the East Indies, met with heavy headwinds and storms as he attempted to round the Cape. Begged by his men to turn back he stubbornly refused to do so, swearing an oath that he would "beat round the Cape if he had to beat there till the Day of Judgment." He was taken at his word and doomed to forever beat against foul winds in storms off the Cape.

Tells Rotary Club Of 45 Years As County Publisher

Clyde W. Warwick was in charge of the program of the Rotary Club Tuesday, discussing his experiences as publisher during the past 45 years in Canyon.

Warwick is a charter member of the Canyon club. Dr. J. A. Hill and Tom Knighton are other charter members of the club still active. Warwick was the third president of the club.

Canyon had a population of only 1400 in 1910 when he came to take charge of The News, but there have been vast changes in the Panhandle and in Canyon since that time, Warwick said.

The club will entertain the Randall County Dairymen on Sept. 6, when the group will inspect the dairy herds of the county.

A Rotary Club in Brazil wrote of the pleasure it had in entertaining the group of students, of which Florence Coffee is a member.

Cigars were passed by Grady persons in honor of his new great-granddaughter.

Due to a mix-up in dates, the European student who was coming to the Canyon and Hereford Rotary Clubs will not arrive this summer.

Dr. Ed Kiser was introduced as a new member of the club. Capt. Garland McSpadden was welcomed back to the club after having been absent for the summer.

Visitors were Hans Boehnings and Otto Schuster, of Tulsa; O. B. Russell and James D. Burks of Panhandle; and W. H. Torrey, Bob Hibbetts, Weldon Steel, Wayne Clark, Art Cox, Ed Mann, J. J. Sanders, all of Amarillo.

The dinner was as usual bountiful and appetizing topped off with a fine freezer of home-made ice cream sent from Amarillo by another granddaughter, Mrs. Benham.

The class enjoyed the scripture reading, the worship service, the talk of Rev. Long about his experiences as a chaplain in Europe.

Joining hands they sang to Mrs. Blanche Haines, "Happy Birthday." Members of the class besides those already mentioned were Mrs. L. L. Gore, Mrs. Mittie Workman, Mrs. L. J. McGehee, Mrs. I. C. Jenkins, Mrs. Hattie Brasuel, Mrs. Barton, Mrs. E. C. Penick, and Miss Moss Richardson. Guests were J. A. Wiseman, Mrs. J. W. Horn, Miss Minerva Sheffy, Mrs. J. C. Curb and Rev. and Mrs. Joseph S. Feed Crop To Be Tops This Year COLLEGE STATION—Prospects now indicate Texas will contribute its share of what forecasters say will be one of the nation's greatest harvest of feed grains. The grain sorghum harvest has already reached central parts of the state, and as it moves north and west, storage is likely to become a problem.

W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, offers suggestions which can help solve grain storage problems. He said most problems encountered in storing grain can be traced back to moisture. Excessive moisture in the grain when it goes into storage leads to insect, heat and mold damage.

In tests made at the Beeville Experiment Station, research workers have found, said Allen, that a moisture content above 12 per cent is too high for safe storage. Grain sorghum put in storage with a moisture content below 12 per cent has been stored for as long as 23 months without serious losses.

Some system of drying is advised for removing excess moisture from the grain to be stored. Allen says three methods were used at Beeville.

They included sack drying which is best for drying planting seed; batch drying—drying grain in layers 6 to 18 inches thick and bin drying which means drying the grain in the bins or bins where it is to be stored. The latter method is particularly suited for on-farm installations.

Allen suggests to farmers who plan to do on-the-farm storage, a visit with local county agent. He can provide plans on storage facilities and information on problems which are likely to cause trouble during the storage period. Ask for a copy of L-201, Drying Small Grain and B-246, Drying Grain With Unheated Air.

REPTILIAN AGE

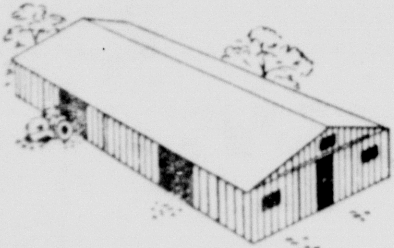

The great geological age called the Reptilian Age was marked by the vast number, variety and size of its reptiles, the appearance and habits of which are known from the remains found buried in the rocks of this period.

The rocks of this age are the so-called freestones, extensively used at present for buildings; sandstone formations intersected with ridges of trap of igneous origin, limestone and gypsum, laminated with plastic clays, and chalk beds containing layers of flint.

NOT TOO CAREFUL

Crescent City, Calif.—Thinking himself to be doubly careful, Tom Mouto put his .22-caliber revolver in the glove compartment of his car and the cylinder in his shirt pocket. However, driving home with his family, Mouto stopped to pick a wild flower. As he stooped, the cylinder fell onto a rock, a bullet fired and hit him in the chest. He was taken to a hospital in a critical condition.

The Hoover Commission reported that one of its task forces had cut enough red tape in just four months to save Government and business a total of $15,274,800 a year.

THEIR DREAMS ARE COMING TRUE—Dr. Wernher von Braun, right, German-born rocket expert who is now chief of the Army's Guided Missiles Division, and Willy Ley, world-renowned exponent of space travel, meet in New York City as it becomes known that the United States plans to put the first man-made earth-satellite into the sky by the end of 1958. They are shown demonstrating how, by 1985, man may place in the skies a space station large enough to carry human crewmen and equipment for their survival. The station, a possible jumping-off point for the moon and man's "last great adventure"—the conquest of space—would orbit indefinitely around the earth at an altitude of 1075 miles.

Pasture Prospects Good This Year

COLLEGE STATION—Generally, moisture conditions are on the upgrade in most sections of the state and prospects for fall and winter pasture crops are good. This, said E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, should be all of the encouragement farmers and livestock producers need to get in a record acreage of winter crops.

Winter pastures, he said, will help relieve the price-cost squeeze which continues to get tighter. Too, they provide minerals, vitamins and needed protein; make possible a rest period for permanent pastures; supply the green grazing needed when summer pastures are dormant and probably most important, cut the cost of wintering livestock.

Too, from the standpoint of soil protection and improvement, winter pastures are a paying proposition. The cover protects the soil from wind and water erosion and the roots and residue add organic matter to the soil.

When planting time rolls around, plant, said Trew. Earlier planting means earlier grazing even in the case of dry planting. The specialist recommends that soil samples be submitted to the soils testing lab from the fields to be planted and that the fertilizer use recommendations from the laboratory be followed.

Trew said to use a combination of grasses and a legume. The total production is often increased, the forage is higher in protein and minerals and the grazing season is frequently extended when a combination is used.

The small grains, oats, rye, barley and in some areas wheat, are the best bets for winter grazing. Vetch, crimson clover, Hubam and Madrid sweetclover are among the legumes which can be grown successfully in combination with the grasses. Trew suggests contacting the local county agent for information on the best combination for a particular area.

The legume seed should be inoculated before planting. The cost is small compared with the returns and benefits from good inoculation.

ORIGIN OF FRATERNITIES

The college fraternity system was inaugurated in the Apollo Room of the Raleigh Tavern in Williamsburg, Va., when John Heath, Richard Booker, Thomas Smith, Armistead Smith and John Jones of the College of William and Mary on the night of Dec. 5, 1776, formed the first Greek-letter society, Phi Beta Kappa, whose letters stand for a Greek motto usually translated as "Love of Wisdom."

The society adopted all the features which characterize the modern organizations—secret obligations, motto and grip. The first women members were elected to the society in 1875.

The difference between a neurotic, a psychotic and psychiatrist: the neurotic builds castles in the air, the psychotic lives in them, the psychiatrist collects rent on them. —Mike Connolly

Even back in the Stone Age, when women wrote down their ages, they were chiseling.

Variety Ring Has Supper at Barkers

A lawn supper was given members of the Variety Ring last Thursday at the George Barker home.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Mary Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Rosy Bates and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hammonds, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burtz, Mr. and Mrs. Crosby Hammonds and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Pitt, Mrs. H. J. Greenfield and son, Mrs. Dixie Harding, Don Jennifer and Mike Slagle, Mrs. E. P. Harding and Martha, Mrs. Maud Walters, Mrs. Nina White, Mrs. Mae Johnson, Mrs. R. A. Hodges, Mrs. Estelle Rice, Mrs. Lyda Matsler and Joyce Barker.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Mae Johnson.

Thomas Reunion Held at Leuders

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thomas of Canyon, and their daughter, Mrs. De Witt McGehee, of Wayside, attended the annual meeting of the "Thomas Reunion," held at the Baptist Encampment Grounds, Leuders, Texas, Aug. 5, 6, 7th. Ninety-three relatives attended.

There were relatives from Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and California, besides the Texans. The Thomas reunion was organized 17 years ago.

The women really get a break at this gathering as they are free from all household duties. The group rents grounds where the rental fee includes meals, cabins and other facilities. The families have nothing to do but visit, play games, sing and have a good time.

They have services on Sunday with some member bringing the devotional. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. McGehee went from Leuders to Abilene and Clyde, returning home Monday.

One mother recently found a PTA announcement torn to shreds and hidden under the bed of her 10-year-old son, Johnny. Wondering why the boy would not want her to see it, the mother fitted together the bits of paper, and understood. The notice said that the speaker at next PTA meeting would discuss, "Why Johnny Can't Read."

SNOOTY TALK

A woman returned a smart pair of shoes to the exclusive shop where she had purchased them.

"They won't do," she announced. "I simply can't walk in them."

"Madam," the clerk replied, looking down his nose, "people who have to walk don't shop here."

Marble paper is a German invention belonging to the 17th Century.

BY LOUISE ALLEN

We heard a grandmother say to her neighbor, "The children worry me to come over to see you until I have to give in. You must go all out to entertain them." As a matter of fact, the neighbors usually keep right on doing whatever they're doing, but include the children in the conversation about it.

If the man is painting his house, or spading up a flowerbed, he talks about what he's doing in such a way that the children become interested, too. If it's something they can share in doing, he sets them to work by his side. If they go in the house, and ask to write on the typewriter, or manicure nails, or dust furniture, a time limit is set so it continues to be a privilege.

Everyone, regardless of age, likes to be thought of as an individual and treated like one. We have a friend half-past middle age whom everyone considers "an interesting woman." She has a knack for including each person in the room in her list of things to talk about. To oldsters she talks about eyesight, arthritis, food, insomnia — whatever their interests may be. If it's someone younger than herself, she pays flattering deference to that. A youngster of school age is asked questions in such a way as to imply that he's naturally an authority on certain topics. She remembers people's hobbies and never fails to give them a chance to display special knowledge.

Courtesy and kindness are ageless. The person who remembers this will find pleasure in more people than if she sticks to her own generation for all contacts — not to mention how many more friends she'll have who like to be with her.

Workman Reunion Held in Tulia Sunday

The sons, daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Mrs. Mittie E. Workman gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Workman in Tulia Sunday for a family reunion.

The reunion was in honor of Mrs. Workman's daughter, Mrs. James C. Scheurer, daughter, Kay, and son, Denny, of Dallas. It was the first time in 10 years that Mrs. Scheurer had been able to attend such a gathering.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Workman of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Workman Jr. daughter, Mrs. Robert D. Ross, and infant daughter, Donnice, of Lubbock; Mrs. T. F. Anderson and daughter, Patsy, of Lockney; Mrs. Ethel Mullins of Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Maxey and children, Judy and Dee, of Lorenzo; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Workman and daughter, Sally, of Tulia; and Mrs. Mary Gordon-Cummings of Canyon.

DOWN MEXICO WAY

Pancho and an Irishman named Pat were caught rustling cattle over the border and after a summary trial were sentenced to be hanged. When the boys strung up Pancho, the rope slipped and he fell into the river below, rapidly swimming around a curve and making his escape.

Chagrined, the posse turned to string up Pat, who cautioned them: "Boys, be sure yez tie a better knot this time. It's meself that can't swim a stroke."

HE WAS WISE

"I don't believe you know the meaning of the word 'courtship'." "Don't I?" replied the wary young man. "Courtship means running after a woman till she catches you!"

Anniversary Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Owen, 811 Maryland, Amarillo, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner in their home.

On Aug. 8, 1895, Mr. Owen and Susan Leanna Roach, both 19, were married at her parents' home in Grainger County, Tenn., near Knoxville. They came to Texas early in 1896, living on farms in Titus and Franklin Counties for 15 years, later moving to the west and making homes in Hall, Donley, Carson, Randall and Potter Counties.

Before moving to Amarillo 11 years ago, the couple lived in Canyon where their children attended high school and college.

Children of the couple are Ted Owen, Duke Owen, Mrs. Russell C. Brown and Mrs. Bryce V. Beard of Amarillo; Earl Owen of Oxnard, Calif., and H. B. Owen of St. Louis, Mo. The couple also have grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Turkish Farmer in Ochiltree County

COLLEGE STATION—Ramazan Atil from Adana, Turkey, a 1955 International Farm Youth Exchange, has been in Texas since late July. He is in Ochiltree County where he will live and work with farm families until early October.

Cecil Regier, a former Ochiltree County 4-H member, is an outgoing IFY Exchangee from the United States and is spending his time in two countries, Lebanon and Iran.

Atil, 26, has studied law at Istanbul University for two years but plans to continue farming. He has lived on a 3,700 acre farm all of his life and should find a lot of crops in his new Texas home familiar. Wheat, barley and oats are major crops on his home farm. Tractors are not new to him for 10 are used on the farm in Turkey.

Besides his parents he has three brothers and three sisters. He is particularly interested in getting information on agricultural extension work and all phases of 4-H demonstration work.

A MATTER OF PRIDE

One night Joe came home with lipstick on his collar. "Where did you get that?" demanded the little woman; "from my maid?"

"No," Joe replied.

"From my governess?" she snapped.

"No," repeated Joe, adding indignantly: "Don't you think I have my own friends?"

Bewildering Process, This Going to School

Mike Bellah, blond-haired son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bellah, is one of dozens of six-year-olds who will enroll in school this year for the first time. A little shy, but terribly excited about going to school, Mike made the rounds downtown to get ready for his new life.

Mike went to a drugstore and began looking at school supplies, but he had no real idea what he would need. He became entranced with a water color set.

"I've got one like this I use, but all these (the tiny pans of color) are gone now," he said.

Mike didn't know for sure about what pencils would be good, and finally decided, "I can use my brother's. He's got lots of them."

Moving on to a clothing store, Mike looked at a pair of jeans, and observed, "They'll be just right if I roll up the legs."

He decided he'd need "a pair of shoes and a shirt," when he begins school.

He had already been vaccinated for smallpox, but stopped by Neb-lett Hospital, for a short visit. Mike bragged that he wasn't scared of needles before he got to the hospital, but when a nurse asked him which kind of needle he'd rather have used on him, Mike shied away from the containers and wouldn't look.

"I'd rather have the little one," he said.

Although he'd been by the new school "a jillion times," Mike had never stopped by. He got a chance last week and tried the front door. He thought it might be nice Commencement exercises for the candidates are scheduled Friday at 8 p. m. in Buffalo Stadium, when Dr. M. C. Cunningham, president of Fort Hays Kansas State College, will speak.

In the receiving line Wednesday will be Dr. and Mrs. Cornette, Dean and Mrs. Walter H. Juniper, and Graduate Dean and Mrs. James L. Russell. Dr. Jack Walker will introduce guests.

In charge of the guest book will be Mrs. R. P. Jarrett, Sr., and Mrs. Lee Johnson. Serving punch will be Mrs. Frank Morgan and Mrs. Virgil Henson. Other members of the house party are Miss Ruth Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Jones, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Busted.

Mrs. Dick Delaney of Childress paused for a brief visit in Canyon with Mrs. C. Petruccione, enroute from a summer vacation trip to show her daughter, Rita, the splendor of Denver. Mrs. Delaney reports a good crop on their land the first in several years.

gin sending cards to those taxpayers whose valuations have been raised so they might appear before the board of equalization.

The commissioners noted that normal growth and equalized valuations allowed them to begin retiring the bonds issued for right-of-way without increasing the tax rate. The bond election provided for a raise in the tax rate of 30 cents if necessary to retire the bonds.

County Judge Roy Joe Stevens said appraisal firms contacted in connection with the purchase of right-of-way for the expressway would ask to meet with the commissioners later in the week, but none of the firms had made definite appointments yet. He said they were expected by Friday.

Scouts of Troop 66 Fish, Camp During 10-Day New Mexico Trip

By Ed Pettitt

Scouts of Troop 66 recently returned from a ten day trip to the Pecos Wilderness area of the Santa Fe National Forest near Cowles, N. M. The boys and leaders left Canyon July 29 and returned Aug. 7.

The first night was spent in Winsor Canyon beside Winsor Creek in sleeping bags. The scouts, aided by Oscar Hinger, started off catching trout the first evening and cooked them under the spruces on sticks for supper.

All of the scouts hiked in to Stewart Lake Saturday morning except Eddie Pettitt and Roy Harris who rode horses in. After wrestling with their bedrolls and fishing rods, they wished that they had hiked in.

A packtrain of six horses carried the tents, cooking gear, and food up to the campsite on Stewart.

A thunderstorm greeted the packtrain just as it arrived at the lake. Only two days passed the rest of the trip on which it did not rain.

However, the thunderstorms up in the mountains were not too disagreeable because as the rain came straight down and one could stand under a tarpaulin and stay dry.

After camp was set up, most of the boys started felling dead trees to use to build rafts. Eddie Pettitt and Dudley Bayne Jr. completed their raft in time to paddle it across the lake to camp the first evening.

Each pair of scouts built a fishing raft made up of five or more logs. Four racing rafts were also built for a race held the following Saturday. The racing rafts consisted of one large log with one small one on each side of the large one. Each boy hewed a paddle from a spruce log.

As soon as the fishing rafts were completed, each scout got busy trying to catch the largest trout and the most trout. A prize of one three-quarter axe was offered to the boy catching the most fish and to the boy who caught the largest fish.

Each pair of boys was on cooking detail on different days. They were responsible for all three meals, washing dishes and cutting firewood.

Hot bread, either biscuits or cornbread, was served at every meal except those breakfasts when pancakes were served. The three dutch ovens were really kept busy cooking bread plus cake and cherry cobbler.

If some of the scouts' mothers could have seen the boys cooking, they would have retired from the kitchen for good. However, the first cooks who had to cook beans really had their troubles. Because of the high altitude, it was necessary to cook the beans all day or longer.

There was plenty to eat for everyone. In fact they ate so many trout that they grew tired of fish, and started to release most that they caught.

Dudley Bayne Jr. proved that he was a real champ when it came to eating peanut butter. Chuck Nester was probably the champion pan-licker on the days when cakes were cooked.

Fishing was so good that the townspeople at Cowles were afraid that the boys would catch all the fish out of Stewart. A group of them packed some tourists into Stewart for a day of fishing, but the only people to catch anything were the scouts, mainly because they had their rafts to fish from.

The best fishing was actually up another three miles to Katherine Lake. Three trips were made up to that lake, which is 12,400 feet above sea level.

One afternoon the boys were caught in a thunderstorm and hail storm while at Katherine, and most of them ended up with a cold.

Craig Hinger and Alan Hanks ended up the week in a tie for the most fish, with 57 each. They were reluctant to fish the tie off and agreed to share the new axe. Raymond Haddock caught the largest fish the last afternoon of fishing while at Katherine Lake. A total of 301 trout was caught.

No one was allowed to count more than the legal limit of 12 fish a day, regardless of how many were caught and thrown back. Several big trout were hooked in a couple of beaver ponds below camp but were lost in the brush.

Eddie Pettitt and Dudley Bayne Jr. won the Saturday afternoon raft race by a length over Roy Harris and Larry Brotherton. Craig Hinger and Alan Hanks had been bragging all week how easily they would win the race, but they came in third. Bill Dreiss and Neal Lemons came in fourth.

Bill Cornette learned one thing about rafts—they do not come equipped with rails around the sides. Bill was busy fishing from his raft and took a couple of steps backward while retrieving his line and stepped off into about 20 feet of ice water. He managed to catch the side of the raft, but he almost threw Neal Lemons off of the other end.

Chuck Nester qualified for the title of official horse wrangler. He volunteered to care for the horses that were kept hobbled in a nearby meadow on the week-ends.

The scouts had a wonderful 10 days and they will probably remember that trip the rest of their lives. They also did quite a lot of work as well as fish.

The following six boys passed their cooking merit badges while performing the duty of camp cook: Craig Hinger, Larry Brotherton, Roy Harris, Bill Dreiss, Neal Lemons and Bill Cornette.

The following boys built lean-to's for part of their camping merit badge: Eddie Pettitt, Dudley Bayne Jr., Bill Dreiss, Neal Lemons, Larry Brotherton, and Roy Harris.

Each scout built a raft for part of his camping merit badge.

The following boys made the trip for the entire period: Larry Brotherton, Roy Harris, Chuck Nester, Bill Cornette, Dudley Bayne Jr., Eddie Pettitt, Bill Dreiss, Neal Lemons, Craig Hinger, and Alan Hanks.

After all the hard work that he had done, Eugene Blasdel got sick at the last moment and did not get to go on the trip the first weekend, but he was able to spend the last three days there.

Raymond Haddock was in charge of the camp, and he was accompanied by C. W. Haddock and Sherwood Blasdel.

Mr. and Mrs. Reece Bivins and Bob of Slaton spent the weekend in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brown.

Mrs. Estelle Allen of Los Angeles, Calif., visited in the home of Mrs. R. D. Lowry last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Oma Ford has returned to her home in Dallas after spending eight weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wilson, and teaching physical education at the college. She vacationed two weeks in Colorado before returning home.

Room Allocations Made from Pool

An new enrollment plan for elementary students has been announced by Supt. Joe Gibson.

All pupils will register at the same place, and the names will be pooled, he said.

Assignments to teachers will be made on a lottery system, with each teacher being given approximately the same number of pupils. The names will be drawn and assignments made following registration.

Those pupils which enroll after the initial registration period will be assigned to the teacher having the smallest number of students in that particular grade.

Heretofore, pupils have been registered with individual teachers. Supt. Gibson said that system leads to inequalities in the number each teacher has in class.

"When that is done, one teacher may have 35 pupils and another only 15. Then, one teacher is overworked and the other under-worked," Supt. Gibson said. The best class size is considered to be between 25 and 30.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Boling returned recently from Santa Ana, Calif., where they spent six weeks visiting their son, John S. Boling, and his family. A highlight of the visit was two days spent in Disneyland, where John S. Boling is working as a streetcar conductor on the Main street. He is working during his school vacation.

Rose Ellen Parker is visiting Laura Leigh, daughter of Rector and Mrs. Lester Jones in Hereford.

Mrs. Ruth Hill and her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dowell, spent last week-end visiting friends and relatives in Abilene and Rotan. Chester was a groomsmen and usher in the wedding of a friend, Weldon Rives, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Blackwell left Friday for New York City, returning after a week's stay there by the way of Washington, D. C. They will meet Dr. and Mrs. Lowell Harrison in New York. They made the trip by plane.

Mabel Graham of New Haven, Conn., is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham. She plans to be here about a month.

MRS. DON SINGLETON

Anna Marie Barker, Don Singleton Repeat Vows in Church Service Friday

The First Presbyterian Church was the scene Friday night, August 12, for the marriage of Anna Marie Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Barker, to J. Don Singleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Singleton, 3208 Tyler, Amarillo.

Rev. T. Winston Wilbanks read the double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock. Draped with white satin cloth, the cross centered rail was lined with candelabra interspersed with greenery and accented with bouquets of white pom-pom mums and large white mums. Jade greenery forming the background of the altar was flanked with spiral candelabra with lighted cathedral candles.

The candles at the altar were lighted by Karen Barker of Canadian and Carol Thomas of Perryton, cousins of the bride. They carried candle nosegays of white Glamias.

Mrs. Lee Foster, organist, played "Arioso" by Handel, "Evening Prayer" by Humperdinck, "Album Leaf" by Greig and "As the Dew From Heaven" by Daynes as nuptial prelude. The "Choral: May Angels Bright Be Near Thee" by Bach was played during the seating of the family, and "Hymn from Finlandia" was played during the lighting of the candles.

Dorothy Elizabeth Neblett sang "Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap preceding the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer" by Mallette at the conclusion of the service.

"O Perfect Love" by Burleigh was played during the ceremony. The traditional marches were used for the processional and recession. lace over slipper satin. The full length skirt was gathered at the waist, featuring a motif of lace in a wide band across the skirt. Covered with net, the bodice was made of satin, accented with lace at the graceful lowered neckline.

Her train was the short chapel length. Net and lace gauntlets matching the gown completed the costume. Her bridal veil was brief, attached to a skeletal coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of dubonnet Duchess Roses. For something old, the bride wore an heirloom ring belonging to her maternal grandmother.

Mrs. Barker, mother of the bride, wore a street length dress of silk organza in a classic design, relieved by lace inset at the neckline and featuring a draped bodice with a bow. A small contour hat and shoes were of the same color as the dress, Terre Verte Green. Her corsage was of white Glamias.

Mrs. Singleton, mother of the bridegroom, wore a street length dress of mauve lace with a beaded neckline. Her small contour hat was of the same material. She wore a corsage of white Glamias.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was honored with a reception in Fellowship Hall of the church. The table was laid with a white silk linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of white carnations. Mrs. T. Winston Wilbanks and Mrs. Ray Alman of Amarillo, aunt of the bridegroom, served the tiered wedding cake.

Nannie Andrews of Dallas, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Kendall Robinson of Amarillo, aunt of the bridegroom, presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Mrs. L. E. Thomas of Perryton, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Ples Harper played during the reception.

For a short wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride chose a charcoal suit of wool with red flecks and matching red accessories. Her corsage was of red carnations. After August 21 the couple will be at home at 1208 7th Ave. in Canyon.

Mrs. Singleton finished her high school work this summer. While a student in Canyon High School, she was a member of the National Honor Society, F. H. A. and band. She will be enrolled at West Texas State as a freshman this fall.

The bridegroom was graduated from Amarillo High School and Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo. He attended West Texas State College last year. He is employed as salesman for Blackburn Bros. in Amarillo. He is Assistant Scoutmaster for Troop 13 in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Singleton, parents of the bridegroom, entertained with a rehearsal dinner Thursday night at the Dresden Inn in Amarillo. The tables were decorated in the bride's chosen colors of Dubonnet and White. The center table featured a wedding ring of flowers in the chosen colors. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Bayliss of Houston, parents of the best man.

BARBARY APES

The famous Barbary ape runs at liberty on the fortress Rock of Gibraltar. The true home of this animal is along the shores of the African side of the Mediterranean Sea, and it is thought that trades brought a number of them to the Rock hundreds of years ago.

They are about as large as a good-sized dog and use great cunning in their mass-raids on vegetable gardens. Two or three of them stand guard while the rest of the troop make the raid, the guards giving the alarm at the first approach of the irate gardeners.

Although women dress to please men, they usually miss it about 30 minutes.

Virginia Holt Feted at Shower

A miscellaneous shower honoring Virginia Holt, bride-elect of Don Cotton, was held in the Virgil Henson home Monday afternoon, Aug. 8, from 3 until 5 o'clock.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. C. Henry, Mrs. R. A. Smith, Mrs. Walter Graham, Mrs. Zula Usery, Mrs. R. L. Grigsby, Mrs. P. L. Pitt, Mrs. A. K. Goodman, Mrs. J. C. Keeling, Mrs. J. A. Edwards and Mrs. Henson.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Henson, Miss Holt, Mrs. A. B. Holt, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Bob Cotton, mother of the bridegroom-elect.

The table laid with a soft green cloth was centered with a modernistic arrangement of harvest moon carnations. Presiding at the punch bowl during the serving hours were Mrs. T. W. Collins and Mrs. A. D. Foreman of Amarillo. The cake was served by Mrs. C. A. Thuet of Vega, aunt of the bride.

Guests were registered by Martha Quillen, Billie Graham, Roberta Grigsby and Mrs. Lonnie Davis. Mrs. Ann Dawdy and Beverly Jean Henson furnished music during the entertaining hours.

The gift of the hostesses was a beautiful copper coffeemate. Approximately 150 guests attended the shower or sent gifts.

Amity Club To Meet

The Amity Ladies Club will meet with Mrs. J. H. Wright Friday afternoon at 2:30. They will answer the roll call with a funny joke.

G. B. Combs Honored With Birthday Party

A backyard chicken barbecue and party honoring George B. Combs on his birthday was held at his home Thursday evening, Aug. 11.

Combs is a pioneer of the Panhandle, having come to Amarillo 61 years ago from Gainesville. He was a cowhand for the 040 Combs and Worley Ranch. Later he worked on the XIT Ranch for many years.

In 1898 he married Sheba Womble and filed on land where he established his ranch in Deaf Smith County.

Combs has been interested and active in promoting the growth and progress of the Panhandle. Mr. and Mrs. Combs reared five children, instilling in them this same spirit of progress and pride in the High Plains.

Mrs. Combs died in 1942, and later Combs married Mrs. T. R. R. Atkins, also a Panhandle pioneer and citizen of Canyon. Combs is still active in his ranching although he makes his home in Canyon.

The birthday party was highlighted by a beautiful birthday cake, many lovely gifts and by the presence of Mrs. Combs; his daughters, Mrs. Curtis V. Lowe and Mrs. J. M. Hart both of Gruver; Mrs. Clyde A. Barker of Corpus Christi, Curtis Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Terry and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cunningham.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

If anyone needed further proof freedom of press now rests in hands of nation's independent weekly and daily newspapers, long battle before Federal Communications Commission on "pay-as-you-see" television furnishes it.

FCC has control over use of nation's airwaves. Both radio and TV are considered mass communication mediums. But in many instances FCC has permitted airwaves to be captured by huge magazine, newspaper publishing corporations, by chain newspaper enterprises.

When radio started, custom began of sponsors paying to get advertising message on air. This carried over into television.

But in Chicago E. F. McDonald Jr., head of Zenith, radio and TV makers, developed a device which installed on sets, would permit public on payment of a fee, to view non-sponsored programs uninterrupted by commercials.

This system was tested in various sections, success was sufficient to convince Zenith it wanted to go ahead with idea.

Then storm broke. Idea of letting people pay for program they want to see has been assailed as un-American.

Principal objections to letting people see programs they want by paying a fee centered with networks who largely control broadcasting industries. They seem to feel programs of merit, even though costing viewer money, would detract from audiences of sponsored programs.

Around the Town...

By Mrs. Arthur C. Haley, Jr.,

The answer to the old question, "Button, button, who's got the button?" is Mrs. Carl Smith of 2007 8th Ave. in Canyon. There are 6,500 buttons in her collection—no two alike. They range from a bone button taken from an English bride's wedding dress over 150 years ago to the newest Pete the Pirate button. Mrs. Smith says store clerks seem to think she is just out of an insane asylum when she asks to buy a dozen buttons no two alike.

Among the collection are buttons of bone, glass, jet, gold, silver, brass, wood, leather, ivory, pearl, porcelain and plastic. Her collection was started by her mother, Mrs. Nancy Boyles McCune, in 1875. It was the fashion then to collect 999 buttons on a "charm string." Each button had to be different, and when the young lady had collected the correct number her true love was supposed to appear. If, however, she was presented with the thousandth button before she got her proposal, she was supposed to be doomed to single blessedness.

Many of the buttons depict historical events such as Balboa discovering the Pacific, a brass button showing the profile of George Washington, one showing the profile of Abraham Lincoln, and one showing Pasedian riding the waves. Still others show animals, fruit, flowers, birds, cats, cupid with angels, Robinson Crusoe, Tom Thumb, a ball and chain evidently from a prisoner's uniform of long ago, a glass set of a pair of gloves and a mirror, knights, a bunch of onions, Lucky Strike cigarettes and even the common housefly. Mrs. Smith also has a card of calico buttons which were quite the fashion in the middle eighties. Many of these calico buttons adorned the skirts of men and boys.

Collecting buttons is the third biggest hobby in the United States, surpassed only by the stamp and coin collecting. Mrs. Smith urges those who wish to make button collecting a hobby to always be on the lookout for unusual buttons. The buttons may be the newest in the store today but in future years they will be rare. Since many people know of her hobby, Mrs. Smith is always being presented with old buttons someone finds in her attic. She is grateful to all who have added to her collection in recent years. Boys in service sent her buttons from England, France Italy, Germany, Czechoslovakia, China, Spain, Mexico and all the states in the Union.

Mrs. James Cornette entertained a few faculty friends last Tuesday. The table was decorated with a large crystal punch bowl full of crushed ice with Coke bottles buried deep and between each pair of green bottles was a large single blossom of pink gladioli. This fetching centerpiece was prepared by Dr. Cornette. I know where to go now when I want an unusual centerpiece.

The Davy Crockett craze has died down somewhat, but the small fry still think he is tops. In driving over town, the observer can see Davy Crockett tents, hats, shirts, and guns commemorating that great American. Walt Disney should make more movies of great American heroes. The youngsters of today are getting a good history lesson painlessly. No one can convince the children in our neighborhood that Davy is dead. They have seen him!

Miss Loula Grace Erdman is toying with the idea of moving to Amarillo. We hope that she and her gracious mother will stay in Canyon. If you see her, you might mention how much we enjoy having her as a resident of our city.

Lab Needed for Increased Yields

COLLEGE STATION—The chemical laboratory with its test tubes, machines and expert technicians is needed by the farmer to secure for him information which can be used to increase yields and returns from farming.

The soil testing laboratory is needed for diagnosing the ailments of unproductive soils, especially, if the trouble comes from a lack of plant food in the soil. M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist, reported that last year 9,415 soil samples were handled by the laboratory which he directs for the Texas A. & M. College System.

"Too few of the state's farms and ranches are represented by this number," said Thornton. Right now he advises farmers who will soon be planting their fall grains, legumes and winter pastures to submit soil samples.

Several days are required to complete the laboratory work on a sample; analyze the results and write up the recommended practices and fertilizers, if needed. Improving moisture conditions over the state give promise for planting conditions far above those of past years and greatly enhance the chances for a successful fall and winter growing season, the in town or the little place at the edge of town with plenty of garden space. Of course, the florist in her took the challenge and in no time at all the weeds were routed out and the house remodeled, until now it is a show place. The garden club, of which she is a member, wishes to include her garden on next year's tour. The McDoualls drive a new Packard and do a lot of traveling when Kenneth is not needed at home to manage his wheat farms.

Mrs. De Graffenreid can be seen in the yard wearing her bonnet and sleeve protectors, and working in the garden and lawn she has helped to make. She says she has never been happier.

Jessie and her mother met and visited with the Canyon group on tour with Dr. Measamer when the group was in Spokane, Washington.

specialist said.

The report from the laboratory will show the amount of organic matter in the soil; nitrogen; soil reaction; available phosphoric acid; available potash; available lime and soluble salts. Thornton's recommendations will cover such items as the kinds and amounts of fertilizers needed for particular crops and cropping practices.

Finally, Thornton made this suggestion. If you need information on how to take soil samples or mailing directions, visit your county agent. Chances are good he can show you demonstrations on what soil testing has been worth to other farmers.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Quieter Washington

As the Rogers family pulls out of Washington for the Panhandle, the City is as quiet and calm as I have ever seen it.

The fanfare and trumpet blowing that always accompanies a session of Congress has all leveled off and peace seems to prevail. The highly combustible and controversial issues that faced the first session of the 84th Congress no doubt accounted for the general talk on both sides of the aisle that this was one of history's toughest sessions.

The tremendous pressure from both the extreme left and the extreme right was constant during the session, both in committee meetings and in House sessions. This builds up a tension and a strain on an individual that is noticeable until it is relieved.

It is probably the reason that so many members were on their way out of Washington within 24 hours after adjournment. The Rogers family would have been gone in the same amount of time, but it takes us about a week to gather the children up from around the neighborhood.

The respite from the controversial issues will be short, because many of them are not settled and must be faced during the early days of the next session. Some that are left pending are the natural gas bill (it passed the House but not the Senate), the highway bill, the school construction bill, additional legislation concerning the polio vaccine and several others.

In addition there will be new ones. One of these will be the surface transportation issue. Much pressure is being built up in this particular segment of the economy and a tough conflict will probably ensue. In any event the respite is most welcome, because it will give all the members a chance to re-evaluate the problems and to obtain the grass roots advice on them that is so essential to their proper solution.

They will be refreshed both mentally and physically for the renewed attack on these problems in January.

Operation Deep Freeze

In association with several other members of Congress, I had a very pleasant visit with Admiral Richard E. Byrd, of both North and South Pole fame, and a group of those who have worked closely with him in his explorations. The Admiral expects to return to the South Pole in connection with the Antarctic Expedition announced by the president on March 28.

The expedition is to be in conjunction with the International Geophysical Year, a cooperative world-wide effort. A thorough briefing on the subject clearly points up the tremendous importance of Antarctica.

The great mysteries that have been locked in this icebound continent may prove to be the greatest boon to mankind in future generations. As Dr. Siple, one of the leaders in these expeditions puts it of specific interest in Antarctica:

"The intensity of the electromagnetic phenomena, such as those related to geomagnetism, aurora and airglow, cosmic rays, ionospheric physics, and solar activity, are directly or indirectly influenced by the earth's magnetic and geomagnetic poles. Evidence is inconclusive that the observed responses are similar at both poles, and it is scientifically desirable to make simultaneous observations for comparative and analytic reasons and to check theories based on unipolar evidence."

You can see from this clear and concise treatment of the matter that all is not yet known. Incidentally, such portions of Antarctica as would be claimed by the USA, would be under the jurisdiction of the Department of Interior as public lands. This, of course, would come under the jurisdiction of one of my committees, to wit, the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

After viewing some of the pictures of this continent and hearing of the hardships encountered by the men, I advised Admiral Byrd that I did not think he need expect any Congressional visitors in that area until things warm up a bit.

He told me that the discoveries proved that this area was at one time tropical, and that present indications point toward a warming up cycle. However, this will require quite a few years, say several thousand.

A Friend of Man

The nation came off the loser when Bob Anderson, Deputy Secretary of Defense, terminated his government service. I have known Bob for many years. He is an outstanding fellow who has been blessed with a brilliant mind and many qualities and abilities that the average man did not get.

His crowning glory lies in the fact that he has always employed these characteristics and fine qualities for the betterment and benefit of his fellow man and not his own personal purposes.

We were sorry to see Bob leave and wish him the great success in his personal life that we know he is entitled to enjoy.

Does This Constitute Waste?

The above picture was made of a milo field with rows 9/10ths of a mile long and with no steps taken to keep irrigation water from emptying into county road bar ditch.

This picture of water produced for irrigation uses was made after following the water for 2 1/2 miles from point where it left the land upon which it was pumped.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

Waste of underground water as defined in Texas Law was amended in the 1955 session of the Legislature by adding the following section:

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—Despite "go slow" warnings from top state officials, 28 or more Texas schools have announced plans for complete or partial racial integration.

Gov. Allan Shivers, in setting up a statewide advisory committee, cautioned against "hasty, ill-advised action." Earlier Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd had warned schools against "rushing headlong" into desegregation ahead of legislative action.

Though the Texas Education Agency makes no recommendations to schools, it is keeping tab on locally-decided policies. Its file of newspaper clippings from over the state shows that about 36 schools have definite plans, either pro or con.

In numerous other districts studies are being made by bi-racial committees. Questionnaires are measuring sentiment in some areas.

Texas citizens Councils, similar to an anti-integration organization in Mississippi, have sprung up in some East Texas areas. Dallas and Kilgore have councils pledged to "fight desegregation by every legal means."

Austin last week was the largest city with a high percentage of Negro students to plan integration this fall. It will begin in the top three grades which are 15 per cent Negro. A liberal transfer policy is expected to ease adjustment.

San Antonio, with 7.7 per cent Negro students, is the largest school system to plan immediate integration. All grades will be included here.

Other towns adopting immediate, across-the-board integration include Corpus Christi, Lubbock, San Angelo, El Paso, Crystal City, Carrizo Springs, LaFeria, Mission and Brownsville.

More popular is a partial desegregation policy, such as Austin's. It begins usually on the high school level with a staggered schedule for lower grades.

Cities favoring this include San Marcos, Robstown, Bishop, Port Lavaca, Brownwood, Kerrville, Weslaco, Harlingen, Sinton, Amarillo, Kingsville, Friona, Rockport, Aransas Pass, Karnes City, Kenedy and Runge.

When it hears of a school planning to desegregate, the Education Agency writes local officials for a blueprint of the plan. These are made available to undecided school officials who want to know how others are solving the problem.

Vaccine Shipment Expected
Arrival of 50,838 shots of Salk polio vaccine was expected by the State Health Department this week.

This is part of Texas' allotment of 1,177,069 shots in addition to the vaccine given free to first and second grade school children.

Under the "volunteer control" plan adopted by the State Polio Vaccine Committee, 83 per cent will be allocated for commercial use, 17 per cent for public agencies.

This week's shipment was to come from the Wyeth Laboratories in Marietta, Pa.

Meanwhile, Health Department figures showed polio on the increase. Forty-five new cases were reported during the past week, bringing the 1955 total to 939.

Book Lists Mailed
A list of 318 proposed public school textbooks has been mailed out to county and district superintendents.

Dr. J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, urged they be made available for public inspection.

Petitions and suggestions will be heard by the 15-member state textbook committee between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1. Its recommendations Effective Aug. 15, R. B. Allen was appointed secretary of the Tri-State Hardware and Implement Association to replace M. D. Shepperd, who had been secretary for 7½ years.

Allen, 34, is a veteran of World War II, and moved to Canyon in July, 1949. He received a BBA degree from West Texas State College, and has operated an accounting firm.

Shepperd resigned to re-enter the teaching profession. He now lives in Amarillo. He will teach at Colorado City.

Skirt's slimness is accentuated by wide, flaring three-quarter-length coat which features fitted bodice and dropped hip pockets. Whole ensemble is in charcoal gray grosgrain.

tions will be drawn up Oct. 3-8. Actual adoption will be by the commissioner and State Board of Education. Texts chosen will be for use in September, 1956.

Schools Satisfy Parents
Seven out of eight parents either are satisfied with Texas public schools or are too uninformed to have an opinion.

That conclusion was drawn from study of 16,788 "parent reactionnaires" circulated in 59 school districts by the Texas Association of School Administrators.

Survey results were announced last week in Austin by Dr. Kenneth E. McIntyre who coordinated tabulation.

Criticism, he said, was aimed more at high schools than lower grades. Also some parents felt the schools fell short in developing "good behavior."

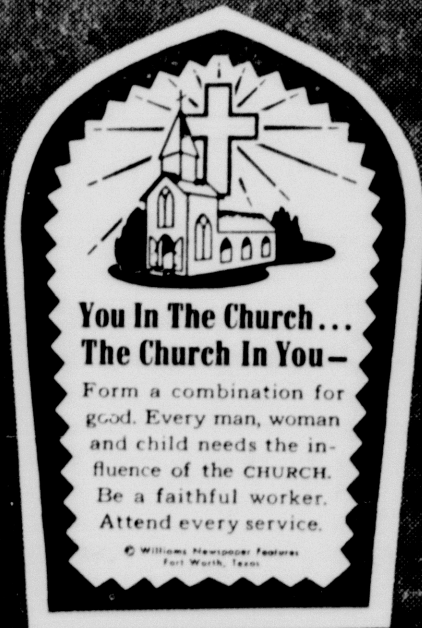

The PASTOR

That crucial hour when one must have counsel by a trouble-sharing, God-loving pastor has come to this man. The broken in spirit and warped of soul must have guidance... the way must be pointed out.

God's ministers are serious and their counsel good. But better still, they know the way of access to God. There is one waiting to help you, and he is as near as the church or your telephone. When you are down and out; when you have lost all faith in yourself...

that's when you need him most. That's when you need God, too.

There is no comfort like that which comes from Heaven, and to the seeking soul, Heaven is not far away. Your Pastor wants to help you.

Cosby's Cotton Growing Fun Costs More Than It's Worth

There's an adage to the effect that you have to pay for all the fun you have, and Clarence Cosby, of the maintenance department of West Texas State, might have to pay an extra big price for his.

Cosby ran afoul of the red tape used to wrap up cotton growing in the nation. He's spent the last few days trying to spread the ribbons far enough apart to see his way through.

Early last spring, Cosby leased a few acres of land in the west part of Canyon and decided to have fun by planting a few acres of cotton.

He put in six acres, it grew, and is beginning to look like it might make somewhere between a half-bale and a bale to the acre. That is, it looked that way to Cosby late in July.

Now he's not sure it will make anything.

His worry all started Aug. 1 when he received a letter saying that his cotton crop was in excess of allotment by six acres—his entire crop. He had that much excess because he had no allotment.

The letter said Cosby must plow up the crop within 20 days.

Last week, Cosby went to see W. H. Upchurch of the Randall County Stabilization and Conservation Committee to ask a few questions about the mixup. Cosby was mixed up, too.

Cosby's letter was written in "governmentese" that's hard for federal workers to understand—let alone someone who has had little experience along that line.

The letter is titled "Notice of Measure Upland Cotton Acreage (1955 Crop)," and appears to be a standard government form.

It states that measurements have been made on the questioned acreage and shows no allotment was given for it.

The "goobledgook" goes on: "If you have reason to believe the measurement of upland cotton to be incorrect, you may obtain a remeasurement by depositing with the ASC County Office an amount sufficient to cover the cost of remeasurement. If it is found that the acreage planted to upland cotton is not in excess of the allotment, such deposit will be refunded to you."

"Under authority of the Act and the Regulations you may dispose of the excess acreage within 20 days after the date of this notice. If because of circumstances beyond your control it is not possible to dispose of the excess cotton acreage within the time limit set forth above, the county committee may allow an additional period of not to exceed 10 days for disposing of the excess acreage if you so request in writing and show that it was not possible to dispose of the excess acreage within the time limit set forth above. The cost of rechecking any acreage disposed of must be paid by the producer.

"If the planted acreage is not adjusted to the farm allotment, a farm marketing excess for the farm will be determined on the basis of the acreage and the farm normal yield."

The letter had a pink slip attached which noted the 20-day time limit and added: "Please report to the office as soon as it is plowed. The fee for reinspection after the cotton is destroyed is $2, if all the excess is in one plot. If in more than one place $1 for each plot over one."

At his meeting with Upchurch, Cosby asked how the normal yield for his six acres could be determined since no cotton had been grown there before.

Upchurch said the yield could be based on this year's crop on that particular acreage.

The letter continued: "The farm marketing excess will be subject to penalty at a rate per pound equal to 50 per cent of the parity price of cotton as of June 15, 1955."

"Until the penalty on the farm marketing excess is paid a cotton marketing card cannot be issued for the farm and all upland cotton produced on the farm and marketed is subject to the penalty and a lien on the entire crop of upland cotton produced on the farm shall be in effect in favor of the United States."

Cosby asked what the support price was on the June date and Upchurch said the penalty was 17 cents plus a fraction.

Cosby wanted to know if the penalty would be based on the grade of cotton grown and Upchurch said it would.

The letter said the penalty is required even though none of the cotton from the farm is marketed.

Cosby wanted to know what would happen if the grower decided not to sell any of his cotton. "Maybe he decided he'd use it right at home—maybe to make some mattresses," he said.

"Then I guess he'd use it for mattresses," Upchurch said.

Cosby wanted to know what would happen if no cotton was made on his six acres—if there was a crop failure, for instance.

Upchurch told him there could be no penalty if there was no cotton. "There would be no way to collect such a penalty, if there was no cotton," he said. "But it would go on record against you."

Upchurch said he doubted if Cosby would have enough money left after paying the penalty to make the work worthwhile—since Cosby would have to pay the penalty on the entire crop.

Cosby wanted to know how the acreage allotment is made.

Upchurch explained that it represents the farmer's share of the national acreage.

He said that Cosby could have been given an allotment by applying before Jan. 1—and that would have saved the penalty.

"But I didn't have any land then and I didn't know I would want to plant cotton," Cosby explained.

Under those circumstances there would have been no way you could have gotten an allotment for growing cotton this year," Upchurch said.

Cosby's problem is this:

If he decided to keep his crop and let it make, he will get between $75 and $100 a bale before any penalty is paid. From that would come the penalty, the money for leasing the land and income tax.

If he plows it up, he will have to pay $2 to have the plot re-inspected, pay the lease money out of his pocket and pay for seed the same way.

Cosby said the government will get more from his crop than he will, either way he goes.

He claims it isn't his cotton anyway, because a lien in favor of the government is on the cotton until the penalty is paid.

Conference Set For Church School Superintendents

Northwest Texas Methodist Conference church school superintendents will meet at Ceta Canyon Methodist Encampment Aug. 27 and 28.

Program features will include discussion groups on the following subjects: "The Work of The General Church School Superintendent," "The Work of The Assistant Superintendent For Membership Cultivation," "Christian Education Week," "Church School Rally Day," "The Church School Record System," "Leadership, Enlistment and Training" and "The Use of Methodist Church School Literature."

Charles E. Lutrick, conference board of education executive secretary, will be in general charge along with a continuing committee composed of Arch Harper of Lubbock, Earl Martin of Colorado City, and Thurman Rives of Wheeler.

Leaders say there will be ample time for discussion groups in which the problems and questions of the men based on their experience and lack of experience will be raised and discussed within the groups. There will also be time for worship and recreation periods.

Some of the local church school superintendents have been asked to present various phases of the work.

Eden says recent strike cost $2,000,000 working days.

Few State Hunting Rules Changed Now

AUSTIN—Texas hunting on a statewide basis this fall will not be marked by any substantial changes in the means of taking wildlife, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Scattered areas, primarily the newly-grouped regulatory authority areas, have ordered some changes. The four Hill Country counties—Kerr, Gillespie, Mason and Llano—have outlawed use of shotguns for deer, as has the Possum Kingdom bracket.

The Hill Country counties also barred use of 22 caliber rifles using rimfire ammunition. The 28-county Panhandle area has the same rule. Both groups, however, allow the use of high velocity center fire 22 caliber bullets.

The Panhandle group has authorized the use of bow and arrow for deer hunters, with the stipulation that archery could be used in taking big game only by "express permission of the landowner."

The Panhandle also allows taking of wild turkey with bow and arrow. Under the 1954 waterfowl regulations, presumably to be renewed, archery is permitted on ducks and geese.

The Republican National Committee said that President Eisenhower, in naming 85 women to high Federal office, has set a record for recognizing feminine abilities.

MRS. MITCHELL C. RANKIN

Billene Childers, Mitchell Rankin Marry in Formal Ceremonies

In a formal ceremony at the First Methodist Church, Donna Billene Childers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Childers, 1404 3rd Avenue, became the bride of Mitchell C. Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rankin, 3700 Lenwood Drive, Amarillo. Rev. Joseph S. Long read the double ring ceremony in the sanctuary, the evening of August 9. The altar was draped with white satin and chiffon, continuing the drape from each candelabra.

Candelabra holding pink tapers and trimmed with pink and white gladiolas, flanked the altar. The bridal aisle was marked with white satin streamers.

As a nuptial prelude Mrs. Glenn W. Dowlen, organist, played "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "When Thou Art Near" by Bach, "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life" by Hubert, and "Always" by Berlin. "Reverie," by Debussy, was played during the lighting of the candles. Mrs. H. R. Fulton, Jr., sang "At Dawning" and "Through the Years," and as a benediction from the church balcony, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. "Clair de Lune" was played during the exchange of vows and the traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Dorothy Neblett, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Neblett, attended the bride as maid-of-honor and Mrs. Allan Winters was matron of honor. Alice Simms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Simms, lighted the candles.

The attendants wore identical dresses of pink lace and tulle over taffeta. Their dresses were similar to the bride's with long torso, scalloped lace bodices and waltz length bouffant skirts of tulle over taffeta. Their hats were small lace and tulle crowns studded with rhinestones. They carried pink taffeta baskets, trimmed with white lace and showered with sweetheart pink rosebuds.

Brenda Kay Johnson, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl, and Patricia Janelle Rankin of Amarillo, niece of the groom, served as ring bearer. Their dresses were identical of pink tulle over taffeta with floor length skirts of tulle ruffles and small ruffled hats.

Jack Ward of Amarillo, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Allan Winters of Canyon, Wayne Rankin of Springfield, Ohio, and Dale King of Plainview.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white Rosepoint lace and tulle over taffeta. The scalloped neckline was sprinkled with iridescent sequins and the long torso bodice terminated into lace points in the bouffant tulle skirt. Her matching hat was a sweetheart shaped pillbox of matching lace and sequins, from which fell a shoulder length veil of scalloped illusion. She carried a crescent bouquet of sweetheart pink elfe rosebuds, showered with white satin streamers, tied with love knots and baby pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Childers, mother of the bride, was attired in a navy satin princess dress with pink velvet accessories. Mrs. Rankin, mother of the groom, was attired in navy crepe, with white accessories.

Their corsages were sweetheart pink elfe rosebuds.

The reception immediately following the ceremony was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The table was laid with a pink and white lace cloth, centered with

Fall Antelope Hunt Interest Is Light

AUSTIN—A surprising lack of interest in the October antelope hunts has been reported by the Chief Clerk of the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

The commission has authorized hunts in both the Panhandle and west of the Pecos. About 300 bucks are earmarked in the Panhandle, while more than 600 bucks and does are listed in the far west.

Interested hunters should write the commission for an application blank and instructions. Applications must be mailed before midnight Aug. 31.

APPLIANCE PRICES

Recent price increases in steel and other raw materials probably will result in higher retail prices for appliances especially refrigerators and air-conditioners, in the opinion of James H. Carmine, president of Philco Corporation. He believes that as soon as the materials and components bought at today's prices are fabricated, their higher costs inevitably will be reflected in higher prices to the consumer.
